

UNDERSTANDING LIVING TRUST

Living Trusts can be a viable option when contemplating the manner in which to hold title to real property. When a property is held in a Living Trust, title companies have particular requirements to facilitate the transaction. While not comprehensive, the following below are answers to many commonly asked questions. Contact your Ticor Sales Representative if you have more questions in regards to Living Trusts, however, you may wish to seek legal counsel.

WHO ARE THE PARTIES TO A TRUST?

A typical Family Trust is made up of a Married Couple who are the Trustees, and their children, the Beneficiaries. Those who establish the trust and transfer their property into it are known as Trustors or Settlers. The settlor's usually appoint themselves as Trustees and they are the primary beneficiaries during their lifetime. After their passing, their children and grandchildren usually become the primary beneficiaries if the trust is to survive, or the beneficiaries receive distributions directly from the trust if it is to close out.

WHAT IS A LIVING TRUST?

The Living Trust, also known as an Inter-Vivos Trust, is created during the lifetime of the Settlers (as opposed to being created by their Wills after death) and usually terminates after they die and the body of the Trust is distributed to their beneficiaries.

CAN A TRUST HOLD TITLE TO REAL PROPERTY?

No. The Trustee holds the property on behalf of the Trust.

IS A TRUST THE BEST WAY TO HOLD MY PROPERTY?

Common reasons for holding property in a Trust are to minimize or postpone death taxes, to avoid a time consuming probate, and to shield property from attack by certain unsecured creditors. Contact your accountant or attorney for more information.

WHAT TAXES CAN I AVOID BY PUTTING MY PROPERTY IN A TRUST?

Married persons can usually exempt a significant part of their assets from taxation and may postpone taxes after the first of them to die passes. Before you take any action, you should check with your attorney or accountant.

CAN I HOMESTEAD PROPERTY WHICH IS HELD IN A TRUST?

Yes, if the property otherwise qualifies.

CAN A TRUSTEE BORROW MONEY AGAINST THE PROPERTY?

A Trustee can take any action permitted by the terms of the Trust, and the typical Trust Agreement does give the Trustee the authority to borrow and encumber real property. However, not all lenders will lend on a property held in trust, so check with your lender first.

CAN SOMEONE ELSE HOLD TITLE FOR ME "IN TRUST?"

Some people who do not wish their names to show as titleholders make private arrangements with a third party Trustee. Such an arrangement may be illegal, and is always inadvisable because the Trustee of record is the only one who is empowered to convey, or borrow against, the property. A Title Insurer cannot protect you from a Trustee who is not acting in accordance with your wishes despite the existence of a private agreement you have with the Trustee.
